SUMMARY:

I am writing with regard to the future procurement of LRT vehicles.

It has come to my attention that, although there is currently no funding, there is a provision in the contract with the current provider of LRT vehicles for an additional 60 vehicles.

However, given the less than outstanding delivery record of our current supplier, the Commission should look at other potential vendors that would be interested and able to competitively bid in the event that funding is available.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Toronto Transit Commission conduct a market sounding and prequalification process to assess those companies interested in bidding on potential contracts to supply Light Rapid Transit Vehicles.
